

ANNUAL MEETING OF PHOTOGRAPHERS

Tenth Convention Begins
Next Tuesday.

AN INTERESTING PROGRAM

Exhibits, and Trip to Marshall Hall.

The Photographers' Association of Pennsylvania, including members from the States of Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia, will convene in Carroll Institute Hall next Tuesday morning and hold sessions until Thursday, when a moonlight trip to Marshall Hall will conclude the tenth annual convention.

More than 300 photographers from the neighboring States are expected to be present in this city, and from the great number of letters expressing intentions of attending the convention, which have been received by the local committee on entertainment, of which G. V. Buck is chairman, it is believed they will hold the most successful gathering in the history of the association.

The opening of the convention on Tuesday by President Proctor will be followed by an address of welcome by Commissioner Macfarland. The first day's program includes addresses, the appointment of committees, and a trip to the Corcoran Art Gallery in the evening.

Tuesday's Ball.

On that same evening the J. Sussman Photograph Company, of Baltimore, will play host and give a ball in the Carroll Institute Hall.

Wednesday's program promises to be the most interesting of the session to the photographers. Addresses will be delivered by the most prominent photographers of America, the place of meeting will be determined, and in the evening a general discussion of the proposals offered in the addresses will take place.

Thursday will occur the election of officers, followed by the awarding of prizes. Awards will be made to the photographer offering the best exhibit. This will be one of the pleasing features of the convention, for it calls out some of the finest specimens of photography in the country. All of the modern methods used in the making of pictures will be exhibited, and the Slater trophy, a silver loving cup, will have a number of contestants who have already entered their names on the books.

Thursday afternoon the social feature of the convention will be held. It will take the form of a trip to Marshall Hall and a planned shad dinner at that place. The return trip to Washington will be made by moonlight.

COLONEL MOSBY GUEST OF G. A. R. IN BOSTON

Col. John S. Mosby, the famous Confederate guerrilla chieftain, has returned to Washington after an interesting visit to Boston, where he was the guest of honor at a public entertainment given by the Kinsley Post, No. 113, G. A. R.

His personal escort was composed of Frank P. Moss and Fred Barton, of Boston, both of whom were captured by the great fighter during the civil war. Colonel Mosby was royally received and responded with a short speech, in which he told the members of the Kinsley Post how glad he was to be among them.

BOGUS SOLDIERS ROB TIFLIS OF $150,000

TIFLIS, Russia, April 27.—Six men wearing the uniform of a battalion of soldiers quartered here gained entrance to the Tiflis treasury yesterday, through their knowledge of the password, and decamped with $21,000 ($150,000), which they secured from the vaults.

Soul Divorce Gained By Fraud, Mrs. Jones Says

Asks Chicago Court to Reopen Peculiar Case.
Husband Explains His Reasons for Separation.

CHICAGO, April 27.—Mrs. Grace W. Jones, who was granted a divorce last July on statutory grounds, has filed a bill in the circuit court alleging that her husband, E. Milton Jones, president of the University Research Extension, induced her to obtain a divorce by representing to her that he was interested in the spiritual welfare of his soul, which made it necessary that they live apart.

The decree was entered by Judge Healy in the circuit court last July, but in her supplemental bill of complaint presented to the court Mrs. Jones asserts Jones has renounced the divorce. She demands that the court reopen the case, and asks one-half interest in her husband's business, which she says is worth more than $20,000. She says Jones after inducing her to secure a divorce from him furnished her with the necessary witnesses to obtain a decree.

Continuing Mrs. Jones says that in October, 1904, she demanded from her husband an explanation of his "peculiar" conduct and in reply her husband gave her a written explanation of his sentiments. The paper is dated October 25, 1904, and reads:

My Dear Grace: With regard to the apparent change of attitude and separation move we are about to make I wish to make the following statement:

I have never met any woman for whom I have experienced what is commonly called love (a high degree of mental and physical blending) except yourself.

I most freely and candidly acknowledge that to my way of thinking, after nearly three years of almost constant association and comradeship, you are the most perfect cast of my ideal woman that I have ever met. The unique blending of childhood, womanhood, mentality, sympathy, and beautiful physical functions presents in you a complex organization and has always presented a constant and pleasurable surprise.

But with it all embodied in the most ideal surroundings and existing under the most ideal and desirable conditions I can only say: "It is not for me." I prefer to be alone—to work alone, to be free, absolutely free to go, to do, and to do without that thought of hurting another.

In stepping out into the world of freedom it would be a assurance and a privilege to keep in touch and contact with you, and with your permission will feel free in acquainting you with any change or development in my affections or attainments, especially in so far as the sex of life is concerned. Always sincerely,

E. MILTON JONES.

The bill recites that although the decree of divorce entered by Judge Healy provides that the defendant shall not marry again for a period of two years, within ten days after the entry of the order Jones went to a city in Michigan, where he and the woman "who was instrumental in breaking up the home of the complainant" were married.

CLASSIFICATION OF BIRDS DISCUSSED BY EXPERT

Dr. T. S. Palmer, who addressed the members of the Audubon Society yesterday afternoon, discussed the classification of birds. The talk was, in a way, a preliminary instruction to the members of the society who will begin field work Sunday.

The speaker told how to tell birds by their songs and color, and how to pursue the study of the subjects afterward.

GRAND JURY GOES AHEAD THOUGH JUDGE WAS ABSENT

BELLEFONTAINE, Pa., April 27.—Center county has this week witnessed the unique situation of a court without a judge. The regular quarter sessions court began on Monday, and the same day Judge Orvis was summoned to Philadelphia on account of the serious illness of his daughter.

The grand jury was in session, and continued its work of inquiry under the direction of District Attorney W. G. Runkle, finishing up tonight—all but making the report, which must be to the judge first. Hence they are still detained here.

OFFICIALS SEARCH ROYALIST HOMES

French Government Determined to Stamp Out Strike.

CATHOLICS BEING WATCHED

All Men Now Under Surveillance Are Accused of Being Influenced in Revolutionary Plot.

PARIS, April 27.—That the government officials are perturbed over the labor situation in France and are determined to crush the leaders and agitators of the movement for a general strike on May 1, was shown by action taken in this city this morning. First a delegation of officials visited the office of the Catholic newspaper, La Croix, and made a thorough search of the premises.

The delegation next visited and searched the houses and forty-four Catholic leaders who are accused of plotting and fomenting strikes, as well as contributing to the labor agitation. Among the houses searched were that of M. Jacques Plou, a former deputy and the first Catholic to join the Republican party in the chamber of deputies in 1889, forming what was afterward known as the "Rallied Party."

Royalist leaders also came in for examination by the police and the homes of several were searched. Among the men on whom the police called were Dr. Lefur, Count De Laroche, and Xavier Peulart. The home of the popular Socialist leader, Grifuelles, secretary of the labor confederation, which is organizing the May day agitation, was also visited. All the men whose homes were visited are now accused of being implicated in a royalist plot. It is understood that no compromising papers have been found by the police so far in their search.

GEORGETOWN REALTY DEAL CONSUMED

Valuable Property Changes Hands at Consideration Satisfactory to All.

Another big real estate deal was consummated a few days ago in Georgetown, when A. M. Quigley, of Ninth street northwest, purchased the two three-story brick office and residence buildings 1232 and 1235 Wisconsin avenue northwest, the consideration being $16,000. The sale was made through the Miller-Shoemaker Real Estate Company, in conjunction with J. McKenney Berry.

The property has a wide frontage on Wisconsin avenue and runs back to a ten-foot alley, the alley front being improved by two modern brick stables. The buildings were erected some years ago by a syndicate, consisting of George W. King, Albert H. Jackson, Mayhew Plater, Henry G. Wagner, George W. Casleair, E. C. Escher, and Harry P. Gilbert.

The first floor of 1232 Wisconsin avenue is occupied by the Miller-Shoemaker Real Estate Company, while 1235 is occupied by the First Co-operative Building Association. Mr. Quigley made the purchase as an investment.

The twelve two-story apartment houses on the west side of Avon place, between R street and Cambridge place, recently completed by Robert H. Melton and are now ready for rental. The houses cost near $50,000.

PENALTY OF MILLION ASKED IN TEXAS TRUST CRUSADE

DALLAS, Tex., April 27.—Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot has brought suit in the State district court at Austin under the Texas anti-trust laws against the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange, the Fort Worth Stock Yards Company, and the Armour Packing Company, and Swift & Co. Perpetrators of a conspiracy to fix prices of live stock, the filing of these suits is the result of investigation of cash penalties of nearly $1,000,000.

There are also twenty-one suits filed against persons and firms connected with these four large concerns. The filing of these suits is the result of investigations made during the last three weeks at Dallas and Fort Worth. It is known that papers are in course of preparation to start suits against alleged oil trusts, printing trusts, and flour trusts.
